I've Got to Sing Again

Whenever I'm down, you pick me up off the ground, You put your hand in mine.

Jesus you take away, every (dark) cloudy day, You make the sun to shine.

If lose my melody, You put me back in key.

Now we're singing harmony, 'Cause your Spirit's flowing out of me...

(So) I've got to sing again. I've got to sing again.

You're praise I must bring again, With all this love my heart.

I've got to sing again, 'Cause my heartstrings they ring again.

(Jesus) I've got to sing again, With all this love in my heart.

Lord by your grace, You're showing me my place, I feel such joy inside.

And when I hear your voice, You make my heart rejoice, It's flowing out of my soul.

You heart tells me precious words, But I want to sing to yours.

I see you in everything, so I'll praise you everywhere I go!

(CHORUS)

Every morning I rise, I have a song deep inside, I want to sing and shout.

(And) When I go to bed, Your melody's in my head, I've got to get it out.

I'll sing all the things you've done, Lord you're my only one.

You made my life a song, and Lord, I've just gotta get it sung.

(CHORUS 2x)
